PRESIDENT'S REPORT

An unusually small throng attended last month's AGM, surely not through fear of nomination or wintry weather. The usual suspects are back in office, committed to doing our best for the members again. That "best" is in providing riding opportunities without having to take a sledgehammer to the piggy bank. Coming up is our Club Day, with DOCSA, at Mac Park, the Victoria Park Motorsport Festival and our State Titles at the end of the year. Now I'm wishing I was going to Wakefield Park with the two Dans, Paul Walker and Chris "Pit Bitch" Hayward, but my bikes aren't quite as I'd like them.

For those looking for something different, there's the Classic Speedway Championships at Gillman on October 15th and the Sellicks Beach races next February. Entries are open, and spectator tickets available for the latter. A bold attempt to resurrect an iconic event deserves to succeed, but the environmentalists have been able to apply conditions that put the organisers in a virtual straitjacket. If the "Green" movement wins this, what next?

MSA are holding two Level 1 Key Officials' Seminars next month, and those interested can book online on the Officials' page of MSA's website. First seminar is at 6.30pm, Wednesday 12th October at the Mud'n'Tars Clubrooms, Victor Harbor, with the second at MSA Hall Wednesday 26th October, 6.30pm.

Back to the Motorsport Festival, I'm taking both my bikes but can only ride one at a time, so if anyone is keen to ride but doesn't have a bike going, see me.

Happy Motorcycling,

Trevor Henderson, President

TREV'S TITBITS: THE GOOD OIL ON OIL

Oil! Our engines can't survive without it. In pioneer days, crude oils were fed haphazardly into crude engines, between extremes of a smoke screen or a seized engine. The simple hand pump in the tank top worked as long as the rider regularly depressed the plunger.

Then a simple mechanical pump was made to do the same, with surplus oil being burned or leaking out. A well-known pump of the day was the Pilgrim, which then found ready appeal with the new sport of Speedway in the late 1920s. Two plungers fed the big-end bearing and top end respectively, used oil finding its way to the bottom of the crankcase, the downwards stroke of the piston pushing it past two non-return valves and out on to the track. This system carried on into the 1980s, from the four-valve DOHC Jawa to the English Weslake and Italian GM.

Modern speedway engines use a simple system to direct the oil, which remains in the crankcase until regularly drained, older machines being expected to do the same. If unsuccessful, the outcome is a crankcase full of oil, lots of smoke and a fouled plug.

That was me, the ESO trying to impersonate a two-stroke on several occasions. Time to bite the bullet and seek the help of Tim Osmond of McLaren Flat. A seal fitted to the drive-side mainshaft, new rings and a general tidy up, and used oil started appearing in my catch bottle. Job Done!

Thumbs Up & try speedway and give your gearchange foot a rest!

Trevor Henderson # 55.

COMP SEC: NEW PASTURES FOR MY SPRING RACING

Well at last it is spring and that means better weather for bikes. As I write, a bit earlier than the deadline this month, I am getting ready for the first race for me for the season as is Paul Walker and Dan Gleeson. We all head east for the Wakefield Park 40th Anniversary of the 2 + 4 Historic meeting which was the start of Historic Racing in NSW as it was to Winton the same year.

The Motorsport Festival at Victoria Park is shaping up well and it would appear that we will likely have the number of bikes that the Sporting Car Club is wanting. Any stragglers get onto me asap as I have to get info across to the organisers real soon. Should be a real fun weekend.

Once again the club is keen to fund some garage space for club participants at the 2017 Island Classic. If that is your wish get back to me so I can work on getting it happening.

The Balhannah Swap Meet run by the V & V Motorcycle Club is on Sunday 2nd October. They are keen to have us in attendance, so if anyone is up for it we can have a little stand with a couple of bikes and who knows if I can get some posters organised for the State Titles we can get the word out.

Meanwhile I hope to squeeze in a ride day at Mallala before I head off to Wakefield Park. Needless to say I will be an apology for the September general meeting as I'll hopefully be in Goulburn in readiness of some Friday practice at a track I have never been to let alone raced at.

Reports:

President's report

- Trevor acknowledged the support of the committee and other members throughout the year.
- The sad passing of Jon Gutte during the year's state titles at Mt Gambier was recalled.
- Trevor nevertheless provided an overview of the year in retrospect, concluding that apart from the passing of Jon it was overall a positive year for HMCRRSA.

Treasurer's report

- Dean provided opening and closing balances for each of the club's accounts.
- Recent expenditure included the purchase of HMCRRSA promotional stickers and MSA affiliation. - Phil provided an overview of the recent MA seminar dealing with insurance. He reminded members that this was part of the review into the whole of sport.
- The issues discussed included sections covered under current insurance; these being professional liability, management liability, association liability employment practice and employee fraud or dishonesty.
- Proposed changes are likely to see a more realistic level of insurance cover for riders participating in overseas competition and who require care and repatriation back to Australia. Also under consideration is the inclusion of a compulsory levy on the cost of a national licence for income protection insurance. This is likely to increase the cost of this licence by approx $60 and will provide loss of earnings benefits to income earners.
- Phil notified the meeting that he had withdrawn from his role as MSA R/R Manager and will not be seeking selection for the roles of MSA or road race delegate on behalf of HMCRRSA at the upcoming AGM.

MANX CLASSIC TT CONTROVERSY

James Hillier rode like this for four laps, for nothing.

In one of the most contentious endings to a day's racing on the Isle of Man, four of the top six finishers were excluded from the official results of the Superbike Classic TT.

Michael Dunlop won, taking his Team Classic Suzuki XR69 to new lap and race records.

He duelled with Dean Harrison to eventually win by 19.2 seconds and set a 126.808mph lap record.

Third was James Hillier and the top three were all inside the lap record.

But a few hours later both the ZXR-750 Kawasakis of Harrison (Silicone Engineering) and Hillier (Greenall Racing) were disqualified by officials for having oversized engines.

The teams supplying the ZXR-750s of 5th place finisher Jamie Coward (Mistral Racing) and 6th placed Horst Saiger (Greenall Racing) then withdrew their machines voluntarily.

This promoted Team Winfield Suzuki XR69 rider Michael Rutter to second and William Dunlop (Herheim Racing Kawasaki) to third. William's ZXR-750 was examined and declared legal.

Superbike TT rules set a 1300cc limit for pre-1986 machines, such as the XR69, and 750cc for pre-1992 machines, such as the ZXR-750.

These machines are similar to those seen each year at the Phillip Island International Challenge.

James Hillier reacted by publicly quitting his Greenall Racing team, saying: "I was unaware of my bike being against the rule book. I took risks and tried my best for nothing."

Early that day Dunlop had clawed his way back into contention in the Junior Classic TT after a fuel stop to beat Michael Rutter (Honda twin) on his 350cc MV triple with Alan Oversby (Honda) third. Cameron Donald was fourth, winning the Peter Williams Trophy for the highest-placed AJS or Matchless, while Maria Costello won the 250cc sub-class.

Aussie Alex Pickett won the Superbike race's privateer's trophy with a gutsy 7th place after battling through the field from 35th.

Earlier in the week, John McGuinness won the Senior Classic TT on Roger Winfield's Paton twin, setting a new class lap record at 113.342mph and the first sub 20-minute circuit.

He also smashed the existing race record by 57.5 seconds to 1hr 21min 10.189secs.

The race started as a split-second duel between McGuinness and Dean Harrison on a three-cylinder MV Agusta. Both riders lapped under the record from a standing start but a refuelling stop for Harrison blunted his charge.

Maria Costello rode another Paton into third and her first Classic TT podium while history was made for the BSA marque when Philip McGurk set the first 100mph lap ever for a Gold Star (101.030mph).

Kiwi Bruce Anstey, who had won the last 250cc race run in 2002, set a new lap record in the reintroduced Lightweight race.

He smashed John McGuinness's 1999 record by over 4 secs with a 118.74mph second lap, which included slowing for fuel. On a Padgetts Honda RS250, Anstey led all the way to win by over a minute from Ian Lougher (Yamaha TZ) with Phil Harvey (Honda) third.

History at the Manx GP

The Manx Grand Prix followed on from the Classic TT and Adelaide rider Paul Van Der Heiden soon rode into the history books as the first Aussie since Cameron Donald in 2008 (Superstock TT) to win on the TT course.

Riding a South Australian designed and built Brian Rosser Ducati "650", the Moto Adelaide mechanic set a new race record in the Newcomers B Race. He finished 10 seconds ahead of Marc Ironside (Kawasaki), who set a new lap record of 111.101mph.

Van Der Heiden then finished 11th in the SuperTwin race, while fellow South Aussie and Rowe Racing team-mate Royce Rowe backed up his excellent debut at last year's Manx Grand Prix with top-10 results in three classes.

He followed up his 10th placing in 2015 with a 7th in this year's SuperTwin race on another Rosser Ducati. Rowe also finished 8th in the Junior and 6th in the Senior races on a Suzuki GSX-R600.
