WHAT'S HE DONE NOW?

Our well-travelled Competition Secretary heads interstate again. This time it's to the Southern Classic at Victoria's beautiful Broadford circuit with some other keen Register members. Will it end in mechanical mayhem or will they bring home some more tinware from the prize presentation? All is revealed inside.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

It's all coming together for our State Titles on December 27th & 28th at Mac Park.

The Committee is busily organising the program; competitors and events, sponsors and advertisements, and officials.

One position we seem to have trouble filling is the starter. Greg Peck, Mac Park's regular, is also a CFS volunteer and on standby during hot weather.

I must mention Mike Wooster, who, although unable to help there, got married several weeks ago. Congratulations and best wishes from all of us, Mike. I'm currently trying another channel.

Wally Ryan and the gang from Rsup Racing are keen to take over the RD250LC Cup, much like Brett Metcalf and Richard Carter did previously. They intend to encourage participation in this event by trophies plus hard luck and commentator's awards.

The yellow winner's jacket, won last year by our member Brendan Roberts, is up for grabs again.

Our feature races plus the title races make for a great weekend's racing, so please join us at Mac Park.

And do join us on December 18th for our last General Meeting of 2014, with the usually-moreish supper put together by Judy and Lorraine. Unlike the AGM, there's no job offers going then!

Trevor Henderson, President

TREV'S TITBITS: A NIGHT OF GOOD SPORTS

On Friday November 7th, whilst other members were on their way or already at Broadford for the Southern Classic, Claire and I were at the Adelaide Oval Complex for the KPMG South Australian Sports Awards. We were there to support Laurie Fox, OAM, in the Volunteers category, an honour that he had already won, from all comers, in the South East.

Laurie was accompanied by Josephine Duigan, who had just completed her first month as the South East's permanent Star Club Sport and Recreation Officer. Josephine has hit the track running in her new position, and was there to support all the South East's representatives. We became honorary South-Easterners for the night, after all we do have a connection with Mac Park.

After drinks up at level 5 of the impressive complex, it was down two escalators to the Magarey Room, where we found our table and introductions were made. Hosts for the evening were Rosanna Mangiarelli and Bruce Abernethy from Channel 7. Rachael Leahcar opened by singing the National Anthem (Which isn't "Eagle Rock") and then John Lennon's "Imagine".

It was a bit anticlimactic when presentations started as the Volunteer award was first. The images of the three finalists were shown on screen, "and the winner is- Cynthia Langley, Table Tennis". Sadly, no one else on our table got a gong, so what to do but accept another offered drink to keep your spirits up.

Interestingly, Aussie Rules was hardly mentioned, the majority nominated for "Sports Star of the Year" being cyclists (pedal-type). The winner was Sam Willoughby (BMX). Other awards went to Lawn Bowls, Cycling, Athletics, Horse Racing, Shooting, Squash and Swimming. Event of the Year was "Hammer Time" (Croquet) and five people (three deceased) were inducted into the 2014 Hall of Fame. Yes, Claire, one was Christine Burton OAM, rewarded for Netball.

Not a lot relevant to motorcycling, but one chap at our table admitted to having owned a Montesa, and knew what a Bultaco was.

Thumbs Up & Change Right

A SOUTHERN CLASSIC ROAD TRIP: By Danny Ahern

On the grid with Waywood.

November has now been the month for the Southern Classic for a few years and as such the chance of good weather is always good. This year's turnout was nothing short of great with over 200 motorcycles.

South Australia had a good presence as did our club members, a couple of them being first timers at Broadford, Phil Ransom on his 350 Ducati single and Mark Draper on his ex Murray Johnson Manx Norton 500.

Having hosted somewhat champion Kiwi classic racer Dave Cole and family from prior to the getaway to Broadford I had to have bikes ready in good time. Come Thursday, I had some work stuff to finalise including some site matters, which Dave joined me on. Then I took Dave around to Murray's Brit Bikes, where he got the full tour and some of the deep history of how the business has evolved, he even took Dave across the road to the K & M enterprise.

I then got home, loaded up 'The Bungalow' onto the ute and hitched up the trailer that was loaded all ready to go and then took Dave up to Cudlee Creek Wildlife Park where he caught up with Sue and Georgie Cole, Betty and Joe's wife Maria and daughter Molly. So then I was really on the road and headed for a race track, by now it was 3ish in the arvo. I made good time and pulled up at about 11pm in a little town called Newbridge just before Bendigo and only about 2 and a bit hours from the track. Friday saw me pulling in to Broadford about 9.15am as the riders were all paying attention at the riders brief for the Friday ride day.

Danny keeps the two-strokes honest.

I was soon unloaded. Wayward (Mr and Mrs now and yes this was their honeymoon, being shared with one best man moi!) had already set up with one TZ and one SR Yamaha. Phil and Barb Ransom joined us which worked out good with the Ducati splitting up Wayward's Jap stuff and my Pommie shit.....pity though as the Duke eventually caught something from somewhere and just would not play ball come Sunday. As I said to Phil, at least you got practice in on Friday and qualifying and a race on Saturday.

Mark Draper was a few pit bays along and was looking forward to proceedings but was understandably a bit nervous about it all. I soon saw him off the track down by Crash Corner, which he then did again in a following session. He was having some braking issues. Mark slowly kept his cool, worked things out and gradually worked his times down over the weekend. Jack Wright who totally dominated the 500 Classic class, was lapping Mark each race towards the end. I spoke to Jack on Sunday to see if he could slow down on his last lap of his last race so Mark got to do the full five laps. Good ol' Jack obliged and Mark had a taste of five laps of this challenging but delightful track.

Chris got lucky when he found out that the organising club had split up the Period 5 350cc & 500cc classes due to entries received, so now he could ride the TZ too. Originally he had brought it over as a spare bike as well as some tuning opportunity on Friday. Chris went on to pick up 3rd overall on the TZ and 1st on his SR500. His TZ races were mixed up with the Period 4 500cc bikes as well as others so as it turned out Chris qualified 9th and me 10th alongside each other on row 4. I beat him one race on track but the authority that must be listened to penalised myself and Peter Large for a supposed jump start.....photos show otherwise but, hey, not sheep stations. A later race saw Chris move heaps and no penalty. That was far fairer in my opinion, being harsh as per the levels engaged at MotoGP level are not quite what it is about at Historic level racing.

The LC brigade were having a ball all weekend with Wally Ryan and friends posting all their times etc on Facebook for the world to see. Wally was chuffed with his daughter Kelly's efforts.

Both my bikes were in good fettle come Saturday as Friday had been spent ironing out bugs and eventually on the G50 Matchless change the gearing, which did wonders to the package. The Manx G50 went well albeit giving me (still) some grief with my gearbox. Just not always clicking into 4th gear, so that is off at the vets getting some TLC and I am expecting it to be on its best behaviour come Mac Park on Boxing Day practice.

I had entered my two bikes in 3 classes. The G50 proper in the P3 500 & Unlimited races and the Manx G50 in P4 500 class. I had rippa races all round. Overall I ended up 5th in the P3 500 class overall, 6th in the P3 Unlimited that had about 23 participants and 4th in the P4 class. The 500 Classic class had me battling with Greg Watkins on his 350 Manx (after he had damaged his 500 Manx), Paul McGahan and Guy Brown to name a few. The unlimited races often had six of us battling for places with the aforementioned as well as Ryan Francis and Craig Mitchell. It was so much fun.

I was able to finally get a trophy to Eddie Preston after the cock-up from last year's State titles in Class C, which he was grateful for.

I hit the road before the presentations were over, getting home around midday on Monday, got Bungalow unloaded, then the trailer. Started up both bikes, drained oils and cleaned clutches etc. The G50 is ready for the Xmas meeting and the Manx G50 has now got the gearbox out and no doubt will soon be mended good and proper.

Ah, makes a change going away racing and not having too many issues with bikes. We all have our day eh? Ah yeah, on Sunday, I got to race in 10 events and all five-lappers. Gee it was FUN.

Roll on Mac Park

2015 NATIONAL HISTORIC TITLES AT MALLALA

With the titles coming to Mallala and our club running same it would be good if members can willingly get involved in an area of the whole event that they are able to.

In the first instant register your interest with Danny and as the event getS closer I am sure there will be a role that you can share with others and be a proud member of our club running what will surely be a boomer of an event and spoken of for some time over

Don't be shy!

CLASSIC WORLD: By Hamish Cooper

Davo's back and winning

UK-based Register member David "Davo" Johnson is back from a great season that was eventually curtailed by injury. He showed his form by winning the Phoenix Motorcycle Club's Adelaide 3 Hour on Nov 9, teamed with Evan Byles. The race went down to the wire with Byles making the winning overtaking move on the last lap. Johnson races this weekend in the final of the Formula Xtreme championship in Sydney. (Third placed Royce Rowe was the only sole competitor in the race. He was using the experience as an endurance lead-up to his Isle of Man TT debut next year.)

Aussie triumph

For the first time since it started in 2010, Australia has won the two-leg Barry Sheene Trans-Tasman Challenge. This sets the scene for a fascinating confrontation at the 10th anniversary of the Barry Sheene Festival of Speed in March 2015. The Aussie team beat the Kiwis on their home track, Hampton Downs, 418 points to 382 to finally bring the trophy back across the Tasman. Australia had won the first leg in Sydney but was still the underdog going into the second round, held as part of the Barry Sheene Motorcycle Classic last month. The March anniversary of the Sydney event includes GP champ Freddie Spencer attending to celebrate the 30th anniversary of his double-world championship-winning year.

EIGHTIES INNOVATION

New Zealand's 2015 BEARS Sound of Thunder meeting will celebrate motorcycle designer John Britten's life but organisers are also digging out several original BEARS bikes for the February 2015 event. Here are two of them. Britten is known for his V1000 racer but his first attempt was Aero-De-Zero, built in the mid 1980s. It ran a local Denco V-twin speedway engine, a five-speed Yamaha gearbox off an XJ650 and a chainsaw's magneto ignition! All this in a bike weighing 130kg and pumping out 90kW (120bhp). International racer Gary Goodfellow tamed this methanol beast. Britten's mate Lindsay Williamson went the Harley route, sourcing an XR1000 engine with Jerry Branch heads and getting Ken McIntosh to build a one-off Egli-type frame. See how the clutch has been narrowed to increase ground clearance. This Harley, nicknamed "Black Adder", was raced hard. Williamson once crashed it into a row of pine trees at Ruapuna circuit.
